FULLY EXONERATED.

THERE WERE NO GROUNDS FOR A WARRANT AGAINST MR. T. B. BOWMAN.

The Omaha Daily News, in regard to the warrant issued here several days ago against Mr. T. B. Bowman, well known here and formerly local representative of Armour, says: Chicago, April 19.—A Paducah, Ky., special to the Chronicle says: O. R. Bradford, auditor for the Armour Packing company, has secured a warrant for Thomas B. Bowman, of Omaha, who several weeks ago, resigned his position of representative with embezzling $379. He notified the Omaha office, which afterward wired to have the warrant dismissed.

General Manager Howe, of the local Armour plant stated that Mr. Bowman has not been in the employ of the Armour company for some months and that no order had been issued from the management here for his arrest. He said that at the time Bowman severed his connection with the company all differences had been adjusted. Mr. Howe said that he knew nothing about the arrest of Bowman.

CONSTABLE DECLINED.

THE COMMISSION FOR MAGISTRATE WAS RETURNED TO THE GOVERNOR.

Constable Alex Patton, who was appointed by Gov. Beckham magistrate in the Seventh district to succeed the late Justice J. H. Little, last night returned his commission to Gov. Beckham, declining to qualify. The reason was that he is the regular nominee for constable, and as Mr. Jesse Young was ordered placed on the ballot for the nomination for magistrate, instead of Justice Little, he did not deem it worth while to qualify for the few intervening months.

CONSTABLE DECLINED.

Mr. Young will probably be appointed by Gov. Beckham.

WEALTH IN SIGHT

Mr. George C. Wallace Offered $280,000 for One Piece of Land.

The Wisdom Heirs May Become Immensely Wealthy From Texas Possessions.

MESSRS. WALLACE AND CAVE THERE

It will afford the many friends of the Wisdom heirs in Paducah much pleasure to learn that they are to become very wealthy from their extensive possessions in Texas.

MESSRS. WALLACE AND CAVE THERE

Mr. Geo. C. Wallace and Rev. W. E. Cave, sons-in-law of the late Mr. B. F. Wisdom, have been in Texas several days looking after their interests, and a letter received from Mr. Wallace today states that they have been offered $280,000 for a tract of land comprising 2,800 acres, which a few months ago would have been high at $28,000.

Their land is near the oil fields, and includes 30,000 acres or thereabout, and at a valuation estimated on the offer just made them, will be worth about $3,000,000.

MESSRS. WALLACE AND CAVE THERE

The offer of $280,000 has not been accepted, because it is certain that a much better price can be gotten for it. It is not known when they will return home. The discoveries in the oil fields continue every few days, and property is selling for enormous prices, and the Paducahans may be offered many times more the magnificent sum already tendered them for their property.

MESSRS. WALLACE AND CAVE THERE

Mr. Wallace intended when he left to return last Saturday, but it is not known now when he will be back.

MESSRS. WALLACE AND CAVE THERE

Knowledge must be sought for in the most available sources. Prof. Pickering of Harvard university has begun the erection of an observatory at Woodlawn, near Mandeville, for his colossal telescope. He took observations of the planet Eros early in December, and will undertake like observations of the moon and Mars. Important results are expected.

THE ASYLUM MUDDLE.

Dr. E. B. McCormick, superintendent of the Hopkinsville asylum, is finding a few valiant defenders among the people and papers of Kentucky. Yet for the most part, those who are making the greatest fuss, possibly know least about the facts in the case. Many a good man goes wrong, and although the unfortunate superintendent of the asylum may be a good man, he is no better than many others who have strayed from the paths of rectitude and virtue, and may have gone wrong. Opinions vary as men differ, but facts remain unchanged. It is presumed that Gov. Beckham who appointed Dr. McCormick, is in a better position to know the facts than those who are so disposed to cry injustice. It is presumed that if he didn't have proof satisfactory to himself he would not discharge Superintendent McCormick for the same infraction that prompted him to make the appointment would reasonably impel him to retain his services, unless he knew enough to advise resignation or compel expulsion. Even though Dr. McCormick be innocent, the trifling of a public man in such a position is impaired, if not destroyed, by public charges of such a nature, and this, if nothing else, would warrant his dismissal when he imprudently refused to resign after being given an opportunity.

President McKinley could have said nothing truer than his words to the thousands of enthusiastic people who greeted him at Roanoke, Va. He said: "We never had so much to do in all our history as we have now. We never had so much business at home and abroad. We never made so much and never sold so much as we sell this year. We are expanding our markets. Our productive capacity has become so great that we are not only able to supply the home markets, but we require a foreign market for our surplus, and we are seeking the open door in the Orient for the products of American soil and American labor. What we want to do now is to be prudent in our prosperity, save while we can and be strong if the storms should come; and they do now and then. Whatever comes let us be fortified by the practice of economy while we are so well employed. We are not only expanding our markets, but we are expanding our territory. The policy of the United States has always been to keep what it originally started with and hold all it honorably gets. We refused to divide our original possessions and we will be the last to desert our new possessions."

You can't keep Kansas down. With Funston's name on every lip, and Mrs. Nation stark mad and in jail, it would be reasonable to suppose that Kansas had enough. But she hasn't. She forges to the front with a population that breaks all records for furnishing triplets. Gov. Stanley, who was ambitious for the future of his state, offered to give to all triplets born during his second administration a solid silver cup. Five fond mothers already have secured from the governor fifteen nice silver cups for their babies, and a recent mail found another letter, backed up with the affidavit of A. C. Dunlap, of Crawford county, that two sons and a daughter were born to his wife two weeks ago. The salary of the governor of Kansas is $3,000 per year but at the rate triplets are being reported much of this sum will be used in the purchase of presents for babies. The governor can't very gracefully withdraw his offer, and can only remain silent and wait for the worst.

Two states are about to go to war on account of a tree. They are Oregon and Washington. Not long ago a big tree arrived at the Pan-American exposition in five long cars. It was placed in Oregon's exhibit as an Oregon pine, and the commissioners of the Washington exhibit sallied forth and declare it is not a pine, but a fir tree, and such a hubbub has been raised that timbermen have been sent out through the Puget Sound country in Washington to find the stump of the tree, armed with which and with affidavits, Washington's commissioners will make their fight.

A London church has inaugurated the novel feature of late services for fashionable people. Many women attend in décolleté gowns and theater wraps and the men go in evening dress. The service was started because of the complaint of fashionable people that they could not go to regular services on account of dinner engagements. It is a great success.

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME.
The cordial greeting that has been extended President McKinley and his distinguished party wherever they have gone through the south, amounting in many places to an ovation, shows nothing more clearly than that the people of this great, free government of ours can rise above petty political prejudice and party feeling, forgetting creed, caste, past differences and all else, in their endeavor to do honor to the president of the greatest government the world has ever known.

If there was any doubt of a reunited country—a country once ravaged by war, devastated by death and torn by the fierce hatred and conflicting emotions of the people who severed friendly relations forty years ago—the demonstrations of love, hospitality and pride that have attended the president's visit throughout the south would quickly dispel such doubt. The welcome came from the hearts of the multitudes. It was a tribute from a free and fearless people who can lay aside the sordid exactions of politics and bow in humble reverence to the man in whose hands destiny has placed to a large extent the lives and welfare of 80,000,000 people. It shows that the people of the south, ever warm hearted and true, as well as those of the north, are able to forgive and forget, and that deep in their hearts, stronger than the memory of past sorrows or woes, there lies dormant the noble impulse that makes a people great, good and generous—a magnanimous spirit that begets in man the love of home, institution and country, and uplifts the people to a plane of high resolve and causes the nation to tower far above the pigmy nations of history.

There is no one who has done more or wished more earnestly than President McKinley, for a reunited country, and the generous greetings that have been showered upon him as he sped through the fertile, sunny south, are no doubt a source of infinite gratification to him, a triumph for the southern people, and a matter for general rejoicing everywhere.

The new sidewalks on Broadway are beginning to show up their excellent workmanship. A block of the concrete near Second and Broadway sticks up about half an inch above the surrounding blocks, and if one block does this, they are all likely to do it. A contractor who has had wide experience in such work sarcastically said yesterday, "Just wait until hot weather comes and you'll see how much better the work the concrete received is than the work it wouldn't receive."

Now that Manager J. E. English has left New York, Gotham may relax into quietude again.

HELD FOR TAMPERING WITH MAILES.

Paris, Tenn., May 1.—For some time packages of mail addressed to parties at this office have been disappearing. Upon recommendation of J. J. Smythe, postoffice inspector, the janitor of the office, Samuel W. Crawford, an aged negro was arrested and his room searched. Many of the missing articles were found. He was taken before United States Commissioner W. L. Carter, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of tampering with the mails. He was bound over to the district court at Jackson and placed in the county jail in default of bail.

THE WOOL PULLING BEGINS.

The candidates for Democratic nominations for city office will begin speaking next Monday. They will first speak in the First ward, then at the city hall, court house and Sixth ward. Some lively times are promised.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of cod-liver oil is the means of life, and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, to agreeable taste will surprise you.

BAND CONCERTS.

PROF. DEAN MAKES THE CITY A LIBERAL PROPOSITION.

Since the Paducah band has again made itself so conspicuous and won new honors in the recent Odd Fellows' celebration at Mount City, a new interest in brass band music has been created and the talk of open air concerts revived.

Prof. John Dean, the leader of the band said: "I have offered the services of my band to the public free of charge as far as the open air concerts are concerned and the only request I have made is that the city erect a band stand. When approached on the subject of a good selection for the concert I suggested that Yeiser park, as it was in the very heart of the city, would be a very suitable place. You see a great many lovers of music do not feel able to pay car fare to the park and by the concerts being given in Yeiser park they would all have a chance to hear the music. I have a band of 21 pieces and I feel no hesitation whatever in saying that it is one of the best in the state and when such a liberal offer is made the public it should not be slow in accepting."

Prof. Dean also remarked that as far as the band was concerned the concerts could be given on Broadway, but that a band stand would first have to be built. The larger city's band concerts are given every evening in the parks and the city stands the expense.

Paducah is an enterprising city and should, it seems, be perfectly willing to grant the one and only request made them in this matter, and secure the concerts. Over 50 new marches and overtures have been received by the band since last summer and after a winter's hard practice it has mastered the most difficult pieces and now has as fine a repertoire as any musical organization of its size. It is hoped that some immediate and definite steps will be taken by the city in this matter.

ARTISTIC WORK.

PRETTY TAPESTRY JUST COMPLETED BY MISS MAUDE HARRISON.

Miss Georgia McGrew, the well known artist, has a tapestry painting, executed by one of her pupils, on exhibition in Balthazar's show window. The painting was done by Miss Maude Harrison, of Clarksville, Tenn., who is in this city visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Singleton. The title of the work is "At the Well," and shows a young girl standing beside a well with her back to a stone wall over which a young man leans. The work has been pronounced by local critics of no mean ability, as excellent. "The general color scheme and delicacy of the tints," one critic remarked, "are very noticeable. The smoothness of the application also merits much praise as in this class of work, tapestry painting, it is a very difficult and patience trying matter to obtain the desired smooth effect and Miss McGrew should congratulate herself on the results of her efforts." The picture will remain on exhibition for a week or two and is well worthy the notice of the most severe art critics.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MANAGER ENGLISH IS CARTOONED.

While Manager Jas. E. English, of The Kentucky, was in New York, one of the prominent dramatic papers contained the above cartoon, with the following:

It must be nice to be "it"—from the looks of James E. English as he appeared to our artist while strolling down Broadway, and smilingly thought of the handsome and extensive profits daily rolling in while Murray and Mack are "Shooting the Chutes" and enjoying visions of the additional profits that will accrue when that swell new theater "The Kentucky" opens its doors down in Paducah. He is evidently "it" and The Kentucky—"that"—"That's it." Our artist, Frank M. Kelly, secured Mr. English in his handsomest attitude.

AN EVANSVILLE BOY.

EVERY NIGHT HE PRESSES THE BUTTON THAT LIGHTS LONDON.

Evansville, Ind., April 30.—Prof. Thurman, an Evansville boy, presses the button every evening that lights the millions of sputtering lamps on the murky streets of London. Twelve years ago he worked in an iron foundry in Evansville, but being ambitious to become an electrical engineer, worked and saved and went to school. He gradually went up until he became general manager of a big Philadelphia company, and was sent to London to take charge of their business there. He attracted the attention of the municipal board, with the result that he was recently put to work at the head of the largest electrical plant in the world. He is not yet 35 years old.

Women Should Seek Relief.

The great proportion of women who suffer never make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their little menstrual disorders, believing they will eventually wear off. But menstrual troubles don't wear off. They grow worse and worse every day. At the period of menstruation a woman is peculiarly susceptible to cold and other external influences and it is also the most favorable time for the development of hidden disease germs which may be lurking in the system. Any physician knows that disordered menstruation, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea are blighting lives in almost every home. No woman should neglect herself a moment after she sees indications of female disease. Almost instant relief can be secured by the use of

WINE OF CARDUI

It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Beigler and thousands of other women and really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

100 Chicago Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27, 1900.
Your Wine of Cardui has done a world of good for me. I have used five bottles of the Wine and one package of Theodor's Black-Draught. And since I have started to use it I will not be without it in the house. It helped my sister in Toledo, who did not menstruate as she ought. She was sixteen years of age and nothing helped her. I was in a very bad state myself before I used your medicines, but I found relief in three days. And now I feel like a new woman and do all my housework and washing, which I could not do before I took the Wine of Cardui. I would be very glad to write any poor woman and tell her how I suffered before I used Wine of Cardui.

THE ASYLUM MUDDLE.

Dr. E. B. McCormick, superintendent of the Hopkinsville asylum, is finding a few valiant defenders among the people and papers of Kentucky. Yet for the most part, those who are making the greatest fuss, possibly know least about the facts in the case. Many a good man goes wrong, and although the unfortunate superintendent of the asylum may be a good man, he is no better than many others who have strayed from the paths of rectitude and virtue, and may have gone wrong. Opinions vary as men differ, but facts remain unchanged. It is presumed that Gov. Beckham, who appointed Dr. McCormick, is in a better position to know the facts than those who are so disposed to cry injustice. It is presumed that if he didn't have proof satisfactory to himself he would not discharge Superintendent McCormick for the same influence that prompted him to make the appointment would reasonably impel him to retain his services, unless he knew enough to advise resignation or compel expulsion. Even though Dr. McCormick be innocent, the refusal of a public man in such a position is impaired, if not destroyed, by public charges of such a nature, and this, if nothing else, would warrant his dismissal when he imprudently refused to resign after being given an opportunity.

President McKinley could have said nothing truer than his words to the thousands of enthusiastic people who greeted him at Roanoke, Va. He said: "We never had so much to do in all our history as we have now. We never had so much business at home and abroad. We never made so much and never sold so much as we sell this year. We are expanding our markets. Our productive capacity has become so great that we are not only able to supply the home markets, but we require a foreign market for our surplus, and we are seeking the open door in the Orient for the products of American soil and American labor. What we want to do now is to be prudent in our prosperity, save while we can and be strong if the storms should come; and they do now and then. Whatever comes let us be fortified by the practice of economy while we are so well employed. We are not only expanding our markets, but we are expanding our territory. The policy of the United States has always been to keep what it originally started with and hold all it honorably gets. We refused to divide our original possessions and we will be the last to desert our new possessions."

You can't keep Kansas down. With Funston's name on every lip, and Mrs. Nation stark mad and in jail, it would be reasonable to suppose that Kansas had enough. But she hasn't. She forges to the front with a population that breaks all records for furnishing triplets. Gov. Stanley, who was ambitious for the future of his state, offered to give to all triplets born during his second administration a solid silver cup. Five found mothers already have secured from the governor fifteen nice silver cups for their babies, and a recent mother found another letter, backed up with the affidavit of A. C. Dunlap, of Crawford county, that two sons and a daughter were born to his wife two weeks ago. The salary of the governor of Kansas is $3,000 per year but at the rate triplets are being reported much of this sum will be used in the purchase of presents for babies. The governor can't very gracefully withdraw his offer, and can only remain silent and wait for the worst.

Two states are about to go to war on account of a tree. They are Oregon and Washington. Not long ago a big tree arrived at the Pan-American exposition in five long cars. It was placed in Oregon's exhibit as an Oregon pine, and the commissioners of the Washington exhibit sallied forth and declare it is not a pine, but a fir tree, and such a hubbub has been raised that timbermen have been sent out through the Puget Sound country in Washington to find the stump of the tree, armed with which and with affidavits, Washington's commissioners will make their fight.

A London church has inaugurated the novel feature of late services for fashionable people. Many women attend in décolleté gowns and theater wraps and the men go in evening dress. The service was started because of the complaint of fashionable people that they could not go to regular service on account of dinner engagements. It is a great success.

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME.

The cordial greeting that has been extended President McKinley and his distinguished party wherever they have gone through the south, amounting in many places to an ovation, shows nothing more clearly than that the people of this great, free government of ours can rise above petty political prejudice and party feeling, forgetting creed, caste, past differences and all else, in their endeavor to do honor to the president of the greatest government the world has ever known.

If there was any doubt of a reunited country—a country once wasted by war, devastated by death and torn by the fierce hatred and conflicting emotions of the people who severed friendly relations forty years ago—the demonstrations of love, hospitality and pride that have attended the president's visit throughout the south would quickly dispel such doubt. The welcome came from the hearts of the multitudes. It was a tribute from a free and fearless people who can lay aside the sordid exactions of politics and bow in humble reverence to the man in whose hands destiny has placed to a large extent the lives and welfare of 80,000,000 people. It shows that the people of the south, ever warm hearted and true, as well as those of the north, are able to forgive and forget, and that deep in their hearts, stronger than the memory of past sorrows or woes, there lies dormant the noble impulse that makes a people great, good and generous—a magnanimous spirit that begets in man the love of home, institution and country, and uplifts the people to a plane of high resolve and causes the nation to tower far above the pigmy nations of history.

There is no one who has done more or wished more earnestly than President McKinley, for a reunited country, and the generous greetings that have been showered upon him as he sped through the fertile, sunny south, are no doubt a source of infinite gratification to him, a triumph for the southern people, and a matter for general rejoicing everywhere.

The new sidewalks on Broadway are beginning to show up their excellent workmanship. A block of the concrete near Second and Broadway sticks up about half an inch above the surrounding blocks, and if one block does this, they are all likely to do it. A contractor who has had wide experience in such work sarcastically said yesterday, "Just wait until hot weather comes and you'll see how much better the work the concrete received is than the work it would receive."

Now that Manager J. E. English has left New York, Gotham may relapse into quietude again.

HELD FOR TAMPERING WITH MAELS.

Paris, Tenn., May 1.—For some time packages of mail addressed to parties at this office have been disappearing. Upon recommendation of J. J. Smythe, postoffice inspector, the janitor of the office, Samuel W. Crawford, an aged negro, was arrested and his room searched. Many of the missing articles were found. He was taken before United States Commissioner W. L. Carter, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of tampering with the mails. He was bound over to the district court at Jackson and placed in the county jail in default of bail.

BAND CONCERTS.

PROF. DEAN MAKES THE CITY A LIBERAL PROPOSITION.

Shave the Paducah band has again made itself so conspicuous and won new honors in the recent Odd Fellows' celebration at Mound City, a new interest in brass band music has been created and the talk of open air concerts revived.

Prof. John Dean, the leader of the band said: "I have offered the services of my band to the public free of charge as far as the open air concerts are concerned and the only request I have made is that the city erect a band stand. When approached on the subject of a good selection for the concert I suggested that Yeiser park, as it was in the very heart of the city, would be a very suitable place. You see a great many lovers of music do not feel able to pay car fare to the park and by the concerts being given in Yeiser park they would all have a chance to hear the music. I have a band of 21 pieces and I feel no hesitation whatever in saying that it is one of the best in the state and when such a liberal offer is made the public it should not be slow in accepting."

Prof. Dean also remarked that as far as the band was concerned the concerts could be given on Broadway, but that a band stand would first have to be built. The larger city's band concerts are given every evening in the parks and the city stands the expense.

Paducah is an enterprising city and should, it seems, be perfectly willing to grant the one and only request made them in this matter, and secure the concerts. Over 50 new marches and overtures have been received by the band since last summer and after a winter's hard practice it has mastered the most difficult pieces and now has as fine a repertoire as any musical organization of its size. It is hoped that some immediate and definite steps will be taken by the city in this matter.
